

ROOSEVELT FLAG FLIGHT THROUGH ALL THE STATES

Carried aloft from town to town by high school boys and Boy Scouts, an American flag is passing through New York state to symbolize Theodore Roosevelt's Americanism. The colors were started on their way September 3 from the Wilcox house in Buffalo, where Vice President Roosevelt took the oath of office upon the assassination of President McKinley. At the beginning of the flight the true background of the emblem was blank. In each of the forty-eight cities and towns where the flag will stop during its progress through the state a star will be sewed in place.

From the start of the flight at Buffalo to date, the flag has touched all places of historical interest en route. The reception of the flag in each community has been most enthusiastic. School children, members of patriotic organizations, and veterans of the civil war, and world wars have greeted the approach of Old Glory, while chimes, bands and singing have added to the welcome of the flag sent on its journey to perpetuate the ideas and ideals of Colonel Roosevelt.

The ceremony connected with the placing of the star in place in each town has been impressive. The flag, carried unfurled by the runners, received by the relay team which is to act as escort to its next stopping place, and is placed in the center of the hall.

The five points of the star for the purpose of the flight, represent the revolution, the Civil war, the Spanish war, the world war and foreign-born Americans. Ancestors of those who fought in the revolution are present as a guard of honor when the first point is sewed in place. Grand Army veterans are present for the second, and those who saw service in the Spanish and world wars for the third and fourth points. The final point is affixed by a girl whose ancestors were born in a foreign country.

The jump from one town to another has been in several cases forty or fifty miles, but the enthusiasm of the runners has been unbounded. They start off eagerly at a dead run, each team anxious to better the time of its predecessors. The Ithaca squad of fifty boys averaged nearly ten miles an hour in the flight between that city and Auburn, and rarely has the time been slower than seven miles an hour.

From Buffalo to Schenectady, a distance of nearly 400 miles, the flag was carried every inch of the way on foot. The jump from Schenectady to Plattsburgh is the only point along the entire route where the flag will not be carried on foot. For weeks ahead the various relay teams have been practicing for this event, and in each case many more than were needed have volunteered.

The flag will come to rest on the anniversary of the birth of Colonel Roosevelt, October 27, and will fly for a time over the grave of the ex-president in the little cemetery at Oyster Bay. More than 1000 young boys will have carried the flag on its flight, and the stars will have been put in place by more than 100 young girls in the various schools.

The final star will be put in place in the little school at Oyster Bay, in which place Colonel Roosevelt acted the role of Santa Claus for many years.

"MICKEY" OPENS AT THE ORPHEUM TODAY

"Mickey," the wonderful Mack Sennet photoplay, with Mabel Normand in the name part, is coming to the Orpheum today. Tuesday only. It is to be presented for a return engagement, with special musical features, including songs by Frank Gibney, the popular baritone, and a special program of music by the Orpheum concert orchestra.

"Mickey" is an unusual picture. It is not just like other comedies that contain much of the same old material. It contains much of the new, and it is at the same time wholesome, entertaining and genuinely amusing. It has its share of melodrama, too. Good, straight melodrama, the kind that makes your hair stand on end if you happen to possess any.

Everybody knows that it is much harder to make people laugh than to make them cry. But Mack Sennet shows in "Mickey" that he has the science down to a fine art. He doesn't force the laughs. They come naturally, spontaneously, ready, by the time he has introduced Mickey and a few of her associates.

Mickey is the sort of person every one loves, in spite of himself. She's not exactly a tomboy; she's just mischievous, full of gay spirits, and has a happy way of taking things rather philosophically. She is all the time upsetting people and herself; but of course, all those who are really worth while love her, and love her very dearly.

Mickey has her share of adventure, too, plenty of it. It comes to a climax in the last reel, which contains one of the biggest punch scenes in all picturedom.—Advertisement.
